The next day Albert Kettleton's mother received a note from him that he would bring down Miss Agnes Durr, a young lady be had met in charitable work. Since there would be a meeting in the slums Saturday night they would not arrive till after midnight. The meeting referred to was the evening performance at the theater, Beatrix La Fontaine, alias Agnes Darr, not "coming off" till 10:15.

Mrs. Kettleton, not considering it proper that a young lady should arrive at her house without being received by the hostess, sat up until the

BAVARIAN PRINCESS RETURNS. She Had Married a Soldier and Was

Munich, July 2.—The romantic marriage of Princess Efizabeth of Bavaria, granddaughter of the prince regent, had a happy squel yesterday. After sixteen years of banjahment, the princess, who chose to murry a Protestant Bautanaria. hose to marry a Protestant lieutenant, has been permitted to return to the Ba-varian court. The princess, who is a Catholic, fell in love in 1893 with Lieu-tenant Baron Siegfried Auf Buttenheim. Her parents, Prince Luipold of Bavaria and Archducheas Gisela of Austria, reused to consent to the wedding. Conequently, the couple fled together to Italy and were married at Milan. The pair then went to Vienna, where the princess pleaded with her grandfather, Emperor Francis Joseph, who finally al owed her husband to enter the Austrian service, and gave the princess a residence and allowance. They were often visited by the Austrian emperor, who tried to influence the princess' parents to forgive her. He eventually succeeded in induc-ing Archduchess Gisela to pardon her daughter.
